

COVID restrictions

Yesterday, the Prime Minister announced that there will be a delay in relaxing the COVID restrictions. The next possible relaxation could take place at the end of our summer term. Although this announcement does not affect school too much as we are continuing to stick to the guidance in our school wide risk assessment, it will delay the potential of getting back to a single entry and exit time and a normal lunch hour.

Within school our main priority is reducing the risk of any potential spread of the virus. All classes are still working in bubbles with regular hand washing and class ventilation taking place through the day. Any incidents of COVID within school are dealt with promptly, following the advice of the DfE and plans are in place across school in case classes have to learn from home.

As we are entering the final half term, I would like to remind all parents that it is also important for them to stick to the rules established by school to keep everyone safe. All parents are still asked to wear a face mask when on the school grounds unless exempted. Even though adults do not have to wear face masks in outdoor areas in other places, as we have lots of parents mixing potentially crossing and standing in the same location, this in one step we can take to reduce the risk of any infection spreading. We still ask parents to enforce social distancing in the playground and while waiting for classes to open, do not allow their children to mix with pupils from other classes.

Class Photos

The photographer will be in school on Wednesday the 16th of June to take class photographs. These will be photographs of the whole class, rather than individual photographs. Please ensure your child wears full school uniform.
