Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that any general concerns against a member of staff, school or the Trust as a whole, relating to aspects of the provision, facilities or services. This policy sets-out the formal procedures should the concern not be resolved informally. The policy is not intended to cover complaints regarding those aspects of school life for which there are specific statutory requirements:

- Delivery of the National Curriculum and the provision of collective worship and religious education.
- Local Authority decision on special needs assessment.
- School Admissions and exclusions.
- Allegations of child abuse, financial improprieties or other criminal activities.
- Complaints about general matters of policy such as the overall resourcing of a school.
- Teacher performance.

Introduction

Galileo Multi Academy Trust prides itself on the quality of teaching provided for all pupils. If parents/carers have concerns, they will be treated seriously by the Trust. A complaint can be brought by a parent/carer of a registered child at any school within the Trust or any person who has been provided with a service/facility at any school within the Trust. This person is referred to as the complainant.

- School's may have a nominated member of staff with responsibility for the operation and management of the complaints procedure. The class teacher will be the first point of contact unless the concern relates to the teacher in which case the first point of contact should be the Headteacher.
- A concern becomes a complaint only when the complainant asserts that the school or the Trust has acted wrongly in some significant decision, action or failure to take action.
- Even when a complaint has been made it can be resolved or withdrawn at any stage.

Aims

This policy aims to reassure complainants that any complaints raised will be dealt with in a fair, open and responsive way with the aim of achieving a speedy and satisfactory resolution. The Trust recognises a willingness to listen to questions, criticisms and to respond positively in a way in which improvements can be made to school and/or Trust practices.

In line with the Education Act 2002, the Trust will:

- Encourage the resolution of problems by informal means wherever possible.
- Allow easy access and publication of complaints procedure
- Be impartial.
- Ensure the procedure is simple to understand and use.

- Be non-adversary.
- Allow swift handling with established time-limits for action and keeping people informed of any progress.
- Ensure a full and fair investigation by an independent person where necessary.
- Respect confidentiality.
- Address all the points at issue, provide an effective response and appropriate redress where necessary.
- Provide information to the senior management team so that services can be improved.

Monitoring and recording complaints

At all stages of the complaints procedure the following information should be recorded:

- Name of the complainant.
- Date and time at which complaint was made.
- Details of the nature of the complaint.
- Desired outcome of the complainant.
- How the complaint is being investigated (including written records of any interviews held).
- Results and conclusions of investigations.
- Any action taken.
- The complainant's response.
- Record of any subsequent action if required.

Special circumstances

- If the complaint suggests that a child has been at risk of significant harm through violence, emotional abuse, sexual interference or neglect, the DSL of that school will be informed and the complaint may be referred without further notice to Children's Social Care and/or to the social services authority for the area in which the child lives.
- If a social services authority decides to investigate a situation, this may postpone or supersede investigation by the Trust, school Headteacher or governing body.
- Where a matter can be resolved through a legal appeal, it will not be considered as a formal complaint. The key areas are: admissions decisions; certain decisions relating to formal assessment of special educational needs; and decisions to permanently exclude a child.

Anonymous complaints (please see also vexatious complaints)

The Trust and its academies will not consider anonymous complaints. Any anonymous complaints will be retained and the number reported to the Trust board and local governing bodies to enable trustees and governors to monitor any patterns of complaints.

Time limits & cut-off points

Complaints need to be considered, resolved as quickly, and efficiently as possible.

Parents/carers should therefore make a complaint as soon as possible after an incident and should not leave reporting an incident or making a complaint longer than one week after the incident. Exceptions will be considered where it can be proven that there were good reasons why a complaint was not made earlier (e.g. further information was being gathered before making the complaint or full implications of an incident were not known until a later date).

Confidentiality

Correspondence, statements and records relating to individual complaints will be kept confidential except where the Secretary of State or a body conducting an inspection under section 109 of the 2008 Act requests access to them.

Monitoring of policy

This policy will be reviewed annually (or updated sooner if required) and monitor the number of complaints received, how these were addressed and any action taken.

Appendix A – Complaints procedure

The stages of the complaint

Stage 1 (informal): Raising your concern with a staff member

- The Trust recognises that a vast majority of complaints and concerns can be resolved informally.
- It is expected that in most cases a member of staff will be able to resolve concerns without the need to go any further and it is in everyone's interest that complaints are resolved at the earliest possible stage.
- The complainant must feel able to raise concerns and complaints with members of staff, either in person, by telephone or in writing.
- A preliminary discussion may be undertaken to help clarify if he or she is making a complaint or expressing an opinion. The discussion is to:
  - establish what has happened so far and who has been involved,
  - clarify what remains unresolved,
  - establish what the complainant feels would put things right,
  - determine whether they wish to take it further.
- The complainant should be able to bring a friend to any discussion.
- The member of staff dealing with the concern should make sure that they conduct any interviews or meetings at a convenient time and in a positive atmosphere. Interviews and meetings should be conducted with an open mind and the staff member should be prepared to persist in the questioning and keep notes of the meeting/interview or arrange for an independent note taker to record minutes of the meeting.
- The member of staff dealing with the concern should make sure that any misunderstandings that may have occurred are clarified and that the complainant is clear what action (if any) or monitoring of the situation has been identified and agreed.
- The process should be completed speedily and concluded in writing with appropriate detail.
- Where no satisfactory solution has been found, the complainant should be informed that he or she will need to consider whether to make a formal complaint in writing to the school Headteacher.
- To assist in this process a complaint form is provided. (See Annex C)

Please note that the staff member will require time in order to investigate the matter further themselves and an unreasonable refusal to allow your concern or complaint to be addressed informally may result in the school being unwilling to take the issue any further.

The complaints co-ordinator i.e. the school Headteacher should be informed of any outcome.

If, having raised your concern with the member of staff concerned you are still dissatisfied or, the member of staff concerned is the subject of your complaint, then you should move on to the next level of the procedure, Stage 2, contacting the school Headteacher.

If the first approach is made to a governor, the next step would be to refer the complainant to the appropriate person and advise them about the procedure.

Stage 2 (formal): complaint heard by school Headteacher

At this point, the complainant may be dissatisfied with the way the complaint was handled at Stage 1 after pursuing their initial complaint.

The school Headteacher may ask you to put your concerns in writing or to complete a formal complaints form – see Annex C, but will usually be able to deal with your concerns face-to-face.

The school Headteacher will acknowledge receipt of complaint and will attempt to resolve your concerns using any reasonable means that are felt appropriate: this may involve meeting with you to discuss the matter further, or delegating another senior member of staff to investigate and collate the information but not the decision on the action to be taken.

The school Headteacher should be allowed reasonable time to investigate the concern or complaint and gather any information that is required, this may be via discussions with all parties involved. This may involve talking to staff members, interviewing witnesses and taking statements from those involved. The school Headteacher will keep reasonable written records of meetings, telephone conversation and other documentation. The school Headteacher will investigate fully and communicate findings and/or resolutions to the complainant(s) verbally or in writing depending on the nature of the issue.

On this basis you should expect to receive feedback regarding the decision reached and the reasons for it. Where appropriate it should include what action the school will take/has taken to resolve the complaint.

As far as is reasonable, except in more complex cases, a written response will take place within 30 days of the initial complaint being received by the school Headteacher.

If you are dissatisfied with the outcome from the school Headteacher, or if the school Headteacher is the subject of your concern or complaint, the outcome of the chair of governors, then you may within 10 school days of the response, put your complaint in writing to the clerk to the governors, in a sealed envelope addressed to:

Clerk to Local School Board

Your Schools Postal Address can be found on both the Trust and School website, or obtained by calling the school office or Central Trust Office.

Stage 3 (formal): complaint heard by chair of governors and/or complaints committee.

The clerk to governors will acknowledge receipt of the complaint within 5 school days of receipt.

The chair will investigate the complaint which may involve discussions with those involved. Once all the relevant facts have been established, the chair will seek to resolve issues and, if deemed necessary, the chair may refer the complaint to the complaints committee for the complaint to be heard further.

The governing body has responsibility for ensuring that any complaints formally notified to them are addressed. If you have not raised your concern or complaint with the school Headteacher, the chair may advise you to do so, but otherwise, if you have a complaint and have not already put the details in writing, the chair will ask you to do so. There is a form (Appendix C) which you may use if you wish.

The complaints committee is a designated panel of 3 governors who will be convened to hear your complaint.

The designated governors will hear your complaint on an impartial basis via a panel hearing that must be held in private, and will aim to resolve the complaint and reconcile any differences between you and the school.

Possible outcomes may include - the panel will:

- dismiss the complaint in whole or in part, or
- uphold the complaint in whole or in part, or where appropriate decide action to be taken, or

Offer one or more of the following:

- an apology,
- an explanation,
- an admission that the situation could have been handled differently or better (n.b. this is not the same as an admission of negligence),
- an admission that the event complained of will not recur,
- an explanation of the steps that have been taken to ensure that it will not happen again,
- an undertaking to review policies in light of the complaint.

It is recognised that you might not be satisfied with the outcome if the hearing does not find in your favour, therefore it may only be possible for the hearing to establish the facts and make recommendations.

Following the investigation, you will receive written feedback from the chair of governors including any decisions, recommendations, reasons for them and if appropriate, the next steps. This should be issued within ten working school days after the investigation has concluded.

Please note: if the outcome leads to action under another procedure or is an internal management issue for the school and therefore the responsibility of the school Headteacher, you may only be told that appropriate action will be taken.

If you are dissatisfied with the response from the chair of governors you should move on to step four of the formal stage, i.e. to appeal against the decision to the governing bodies complaints appeal panel.

Stage 4 (formal): complaint heard by governing bodies complaints appeal panel

The complainant needs to write to the clerk to the governing body within 10 days of the decision giving details of the complaint and asking that it is put before the appeal panel. The chair, or if the chair has been involved at any previous stage in the process, a nominated governor, will convene a GB complaints panel. One member of the panel will be independent of the management and running of the school.

The governors' appeal hearing is the last school-based stage of the complaints process and is not convened merely to rubber-stamp previous decisions, you will be given the opportunity to attend the hearing along with a friend or representative and/or a translator if you wish.

Individual complaints would not be heard by the whole GB at any stage, as this could compromise the impartiality of any panel set up for a disciplinary hearing against a member of staff following a serious complaint.

The governing body may nominate a number of members with delegated powers to hear complaints at that stage, and set out its terms of reference. These can include:

- drawing up its procedures;
- hearing individual appeals;
- making recommendations on policy as a result of complaints.

The panel can be drawn from the nominated members and may consist of three or five people. The panel may choose their own Chair.

The panel can make findings and recommendations:

- dismiss the complaint in whole or in part;
- uphold the complaint in whole or in part;
- decide on the appropriate action to be taken to resolve the complaint;
- recommend changes to the school's systems or procedures to ensure that problems of a similar nature do not recur.

A copy of the panel's findings and recommendations will be:

- provided to the complainant and where relevant, the person complained about.
- made available for inspection on the school premises by the proprietor/school Headteacher.

Notification of the panel's decision

The chair of the panel will ensure that the complainant is notified of the panel's decision, in writing, with the panel's response (including the reasons for the decision); this is usually within 30 days of the appeal being received by the appeal panel procedure.

The letter should explain if there are any further rights of appeal if so, to whom they need to be addressed.

This is the final step of the process for the school (except for carrying out agreed actions) and there is no more that the school can do – trying to raise the issue further through the school may lead to your complaint being treated as vexatious.

Vexatious Complaints

There will be occasions when, despite all stages of the procedures having been followed the complainant remains dissatisfied. If the complainant tries to reopen the same issue, the chair of the GB is able to inform them in writing that the procedure has been exhausted and that the matter is now closed. If the complainant writes again on the same issue, then the correspondence may be recognised as vexatious and there will be no obligation on the part of the school to respond.

If, despite all stages of the procedure having been followed, you remain dissatisfied, you may take your complaint to Galileo Multi Academy Trust who can review due process.

There is no onus on them to re-open an investigation if they are satisfied that the school has dealt with the complaint appropriately.

The final stage of appeal is to the education and Skills Funding Agency
